HOPE ABANDONED ANY STILL LIVE IN DAWSON MINE

Forty-One Taken Out Dead, Two Walk Out Alive—Seventy-nine Known to Be Still in Mine

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR DEAD BODIES OF MINERS

By Associated Press.

DAWSON, Feb. 10.—Dawson today continues to search for her dead in the horn recesses of the Phelp-Dodge corporation mine wrecked Thursday by explosion. With the recovery early today of five bodies in the shaft passage ways the total known dead reached forty-one. Official figures say there were 122 men in the mine when the explosion took place. They emerged yesterday unharmed. Seventy-nine are still in the mine. Hope is abandoned that any are still alive.

MEMPHIS MAN MAY BE L. M. U. HEAD

J. L. Highsaw Considered Most Favorably—Board Makes Choice Monday

The announcement has just been made that J. L. Highsaw, principal of the Technical high school of Memphis, is considered the most favorable candidate for the presidency of Lincoln Memorial University. The committee of the board of directors appointed to select a new president will make their report to the board Monday, February 12, in Washington. Judge J. H. S. Morison of Cumberland Gap, of this committee has announced that Mr. Highsaw's name will be submitted as th most favorable candidate, and it is probable that he will be elected.

Mr. Highsaw is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, receiving his A. B. degree there in 1911 Since entering school work he has received the M. A. degree from the University of Wisconsin, 1916. He is a native of Texas, being reared in Texas and Oklahoma. His career in school work covened in 1911 in Memphis, when he was made head of the department of history and government at Central high school.

In 1918 he was elected principal of the Technical High school of Memphis, which at that time had an enrollment of 232. Under the administration of Mr. Highsaw the school has grown until now its present enrollment is 2,235. This school is one of the most complete of its kind anywhere in the country, there being only one other in the south, that in Atlanta.

Dr. Hubbell resigned the presidency of the Lincoln Memorial university last May and since that time Dean Ford has assumed the president's duties pending the election of his successor.

M. H. S. WINS FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

Defeat Pineville Team There Last Night, 19 to 13—Game Hard Fought One

The Middlesboro High Bearcats beat the Pineville High Mountaineers 19 to 13 in a basketball game at Pineville last night. This is Middlesboro's first victory and, as the boys have had no place to play this fall and expected no basketball season they are proud of the outcome of this game.

The game, a close and hard fought one, opened with both teams playing light. Pineville scored first and had Middlesboro shaded all through the first half which ended 9 to 3 in favor of Pineville.

The second half told a different story. The Bearcats opened up and showed what they had. The pressure of the Bearcats was too strong for their opponents. After a big lead, the Bearcats progressed in such a way as to leave Pineville helpless.

Carnes starred for Pineville and McWilliams for Middlesboro. The whole Bearcat team worked well and Coach Porter was more than pleased with their work, considering that they had had only two weeks' practice. Middlesboro's lineup was: Center, Brown; Forwards Sloan and McWilliams; Guards, Faulkner and Capt. Ginsburg; subs, Marion, Willis Easter and Griffith.

The Pineville Senior girls played the eighth grade girls in a basketball game last night and beat them 6 to 5. The game was a close one all the way through.

PAROLED MAN SENT BACK TO PRISON

Edgar Ball, Convicted for Murder but Let Out 8 Years Ago, Violates Parole

Edgar Ball, paroled prisoner from the state pentientiary, was returned to Frankfort this morning to finish his sentence. He violated his parole last week by firing several shots from his pistol in a Nineteenth street pool room. He was captured at the rear of Wallace Gastineau's drug store, Wednesday night by Chief H. E. Ball and his men.

Ball was convicted in 1904 of the murder of John Moore in the Ball saloon which was located in the building now occupied by the Donovan meat market. He was paroled eight years ago. His recent breach of the peace subjected him to confinement again in the state reformatory and officials there were notified after Ball's capture here. A. D. Head, an officer of the State Board of Charities and Corrections took the prisoner in charge and left with him for Frankfort this morning.

NO ACTION ON COMMUNITY SERVICE

Opinion Present Time Not Propitious For Movement—Will Consider Later

Action on the proposed community service plans for Middlesboro was again deferred at the meeting held in the office of Supt. J. W. Bradner yesterday afternoon. Those present were appointed as a committe, with Prof. Bradner as chairman, to keep the issue alive before the public. Executives of various civic clubs and organizations were also named as members of the committee. Those present were of the opinion that this is not the propitious time to take up the matter here. All expressed themselves as being in favor of the movement and thanked Mrs Elizabeth Handley for her work here in the interest of the cause.

The fact that the Kiwanis club is now working to get a national park for Cumberand Gap and does not wish its interest diverted from this subject was given as one of the reasons why the plan would probably not receive sufficient support now. Numerous drives that have been made here during the past year was mentioned as another obstacle to the financial side of the affair.

"I know that Middlesboro has great need of this service," declared Prof. Bradner, "and as soon as the people become educated to it they will demand it."

Nearly all present expressed the similar opinions. Those present at the meeting were: Supt. J. W. Bradner, Mrs. Elizabeth Handley, Mayor J. H. Keeney Mrs. D. G. Hinks, Arthur Rhorer, Rev. W. K. McClure, Rev. E. F. Burnside and Chas E. Cooke.

Mrs. Handley announced that she had received a telegram from the headquarters at New York to which she is instructed to go to Guthrie, Okla., to conduct a dramatic institute. She will leave here Sunday.

FEDERAL OFFICERS MAKE SUCCESSFUL RAIDS THIS MORN

Twenty-five Gallons Liquor Taken From Harry and Willie Ball Residence and Gastineau's Drug Store

BALL MEN ARRESTED TAKEN TO PINEVILLE

About twenty-five gallons of liquor were taken in a raid made this morning by Federal prohibition agents at the store and residence of Harry Ball and Willie Ball and at Wallace Gastineau's drug store. William Saylor, Federal prohibition agent for this district, and several deputies made the raid. Harry and Willie Ball were taken to Pineville where they made bond.

According to the reports, the most of the liquor was found at the residence of Harry and Willie Ball on Cumberland Avenue. Ten half-pints are said to have been found in a room over Gastineau's store.

George Calloway, a colored man, was arrested at the rear of the store with about a quart of whiskey, according to a statement made by Wallace Gastineau who also said that neither he nor any one conected with the store were placed under arrest.

A small quantity of liquor is said to have been found at the grocery store of Willie and Harry Ball on Asbury avenue and Nineteenth street. The garage of Bruce Hilll on Salisbury avenue was searched by the raiders but, according to the reports, no liquor was found.

A THOUGHT

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifices; or I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.—Mat. 9:13.

Sins may be forgiven through repentance, but no act of with will ever justify them.—Sherlock.

GO TO CHURCH TOMORROW

Some time ago a New York minister created a sensation by an article which he wrote for the newspapers on the subject of "Church Going as a Business Asset.' While we believe that those who attend church services should do so for reasons entirely disassociated with business, it cannot be denied that their presence there lends them an asset that the non-church goers do not have. This cannot fail to have its favorable effect upon their business as well as their moral and social life.

Middlesboro churches have sufficient space to accomodate all the people of church-going age in this city. There are some, of course who find it impossible to attend on account of private affairs, but this class is in the minority. The greater part of those who stay away from the churches do stay for selfish reasons. They prefer to make themselves comfortable at home or take a pleasure trip rather than to devote an hour or two to solemn thought and meditation.

Churches of this city need the moral support of its citizens more than they need their financial backing. The latter comes incidentally when the former is given.

There are all sorts of arguments to the contrary, but ordinarily the best men and women of any community are those who attend church regularly. Those who have the will power to put aside ordinary temptations and devote a part of their time attending church services are those who are capable of sober thought sufficient to form a potent influence for the good of the city.

The influence of the churches is the mighty leavening element that keeps the world from utter chaos and eventual self destruction. Its influence is not readily perceived, perhaps, because we are accustomed to it. But it is there and would be almost instantly noticed if it were suddenly withdrawn.

We are prone to become lax in our religious life and deed to attend church services, at least on Sundays, to get a sort of moral shaking up.

There are hundreds of men and women in Middlesboro who are members and regular attendants of the churches. On the other hand, there are great number who rarely, if ever, attend services.

Like all other habits, that of church going is easy to form and hard to quit once it becomes firmly rooted in the individual.

FINISH THE JOB

In making up their minds to quit fighting among themselves, the five Central American republics have done a wise thing It is to be hoped that they will stick to their good resolution. If left to themselves to work out their problems in their own way they are likely to maintain peace with one another and with the outside world.

Their troubles have, for the most part, been of foreign manufacture. "Dollar diplomacy" has been the most powerful fomenter of discord in Central America and Mexico. Citizens of Guatemala or Mexico have often been as litte responsible for revolutions in their countries as they have been for earthquakes there. A great many of these Latin-American revolutions are hatched in skyscrapers at New York, London and Paris.

If London, Paris and New York would form a three-power pact to quit meddling in Latin-American affairs there would have been less turmoil in Latin-America than there has been of late. What should be put out of business are "dollar diplomacy" and foreign concessionaires in search of "a good thing" at the expense of the so-called "backward peoples" of these so-called "undeveloped countries."

Financial bandits outside Latin-America, who wear unmistakable English American or French names, should be repressed quite as sternly as bandits in Central America or Mexico.—Courier-Journal.

The visit of Dr. Roddy to Middlesboro renews in the hearts of Middlesboro people a feeling of genuine sympathy and universal appreciation of this greatly loved and highly esteemed man. We have watched with anxious hearts Dr. Roddy's slow recovery of his broken health, and we see him now apparently recovered but with frailties which will doubtless prevent him from again entering actively into the work to which he was so tremendously devoted.

Here is a sublime figure, Dr. Roddy has done his work nobly and well. Keen-minded, warm-hearted, clear-visioned, he has krought more than most men. His last services with the college boys and girls of Lincoln Memorial University which resulted in such a wonderful success was a notable close to his active career.

Now Dr. Roddy, a martyr to his intense devotion to duty rests himself in the meditation born of a calm and peaceful spirit. Perhaps he chafes a little at his forced retirement from the work he loves, but as the soldier who has done his duty at the front and who falls, unable to go farther, so Dr. Roddy, truly a captain in the great army of Christian workers, now takes his place in the grand stand and reviews the parade of life as it goes by.

How many of us at the close of active life will be able to look upon a career so replete with achievments, and so blessed with a rich friendship and general good will which is marvelous? Congratulations to Dr. Roddy on his return to health ,and greetings to him on his visit to Middlesboro, the home so close to his heart.

ARCADY

❖ ❖ ❖ ❖ By Berton Braley ❖ ❖ ❖ ❖

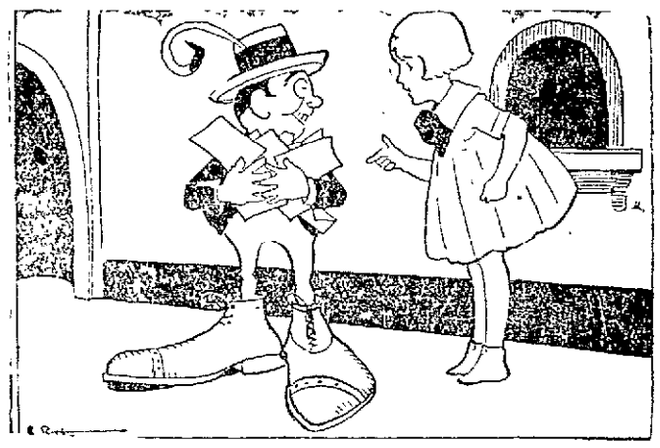
There's many a road to Arcady,
For it isn't a realm defined
By sharp and accurate boundary,
It's a state of the heart and mind;
And the path to my Arcady seems strange,
Except when you understand
The varied routes that a man may range
To get to that joyous land.

I start on my trip to Arcady
In a closely packed subway train,
Instead of the sauntering blithe and free
The turf of a fairy lane;
Then I walk ten blocks through the noisy street,
A cluttered-up throughfare.
But I know at the end of my walk I'll greet
My Arcady waiting there.

I climb four flights and I take my key
And open the dingy door
And—there is my pleasant Arcady
With riches of joy in store;
A place with happiness glorified
For I might have told you that
I find my Arcady inside
The walls of a city flat.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton



One day Mr. Flippety Flop, the kind little fairy with the enormous feet, came striding up to the hickory tree postoffice.

"Any mail for me?" he asked in a cheery voice.

Nancy looked in Mr Flippety Flop's letter box and handed him a pile of letters. "Yes, sir, lots of them," said he.

"Valentines, every one of them, I bet you!" cried the litte fairyman.

And sure enough they were.

This one was from Paulina Porcupine:

"I send to you this Valentine,
Yours truly, Polly Porcupine."

This one was from Marty Mink:

"Dear sir, to your health I drink,
Yours truly Mister Marty Mink."

This one was from—well you can see for yourself:

"I wiggle my ears, and I skip and I hop,
And I send you my best, Mr. Flippety Flop.
You are kind and you're nice and you're awfully funny,
And I send you my best,
Miss Cottontail Bunny."

Another one was:

"Won't you call on me soon,
In the full of the moon?
Miss Cynthia Coon."

The rest went like this:

'My tail's in a curl,
And my heart's in a whirl,
Miss Saucy Nose Squirrel."

'The sight of you sets my heart all agog,
I live at the end of the old hollow log.
Miss Frog."

"I like you 'cause you're nice and fat.
Mathilda Molly May Muskrat."

'The sun doth shine,
The wind doth blow,
I'll be your valentine,
Miss Crow."

"Goodness!" exclaimed Mr. Flippety Flop, blushing. "I didn't know I was so popular."

"It's because you are so nice and kind and always doing favors," said Nancy.

"Well it's certainly not because I am beautiful," decared the funny fairyman, looking ruefully at his feet and pulling his top-knot. "There must be something in what you say."

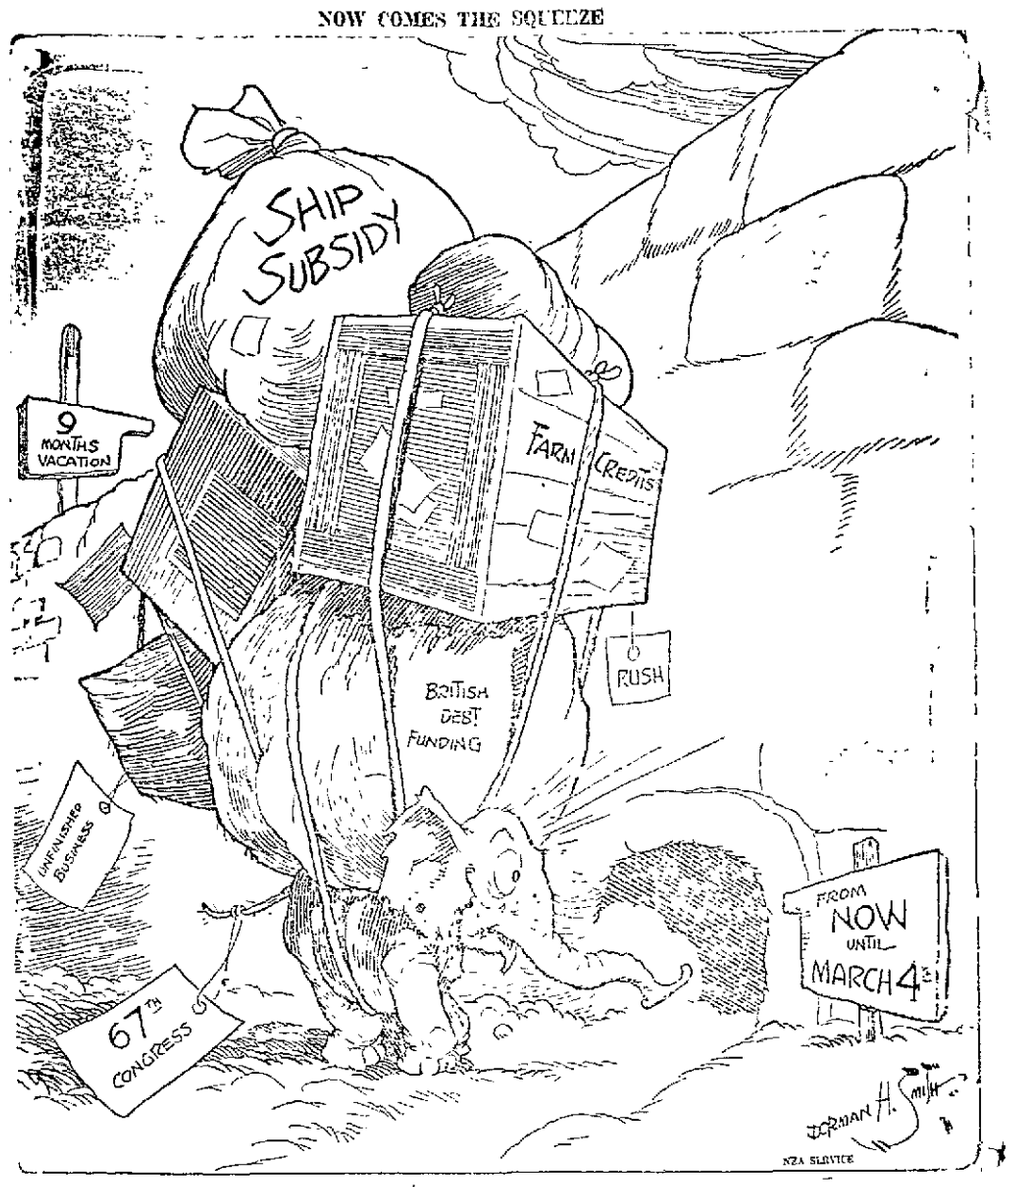
Income Tax Facts No. 6.

To avoid penalty income tax returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has principal place of business on or before midnight March 15, 1923.

When additional time is required because of illness or absence of the taxpayer from home, the collector may grant upon application before the return is due, March 15, an extension of not to exceed 30 days. If an accurate return can not be made within the 30 days extension period a request for a further extension must be made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue Washington. D. C. Collectors have not authority to grant an extension exceeding 30 days.

Failure to make a return on time subjects the delinquent to a penalty of $1,000 and an additional penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due. If the failure is willful, however, or an attempt is made to evade the tax by filing a false return, the offender is liable to imprisonment and to a fine of not more than $10,000 and costs in addition to a penalty of 50 per cent of the amount of tax evaded

NOW COMES THE SQUEEZE



TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES SALES ARE LARGE

Postmaster Cooke announced today that during the month of January the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates at the Middlesboro postoffice amounted to $12,500.

"A very large percentage of the January sales were due to the fact that owners of Treasury Savings Stamps, believing in the financial soundness of the government, exchanged their holdings of these stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates," Postmaster Cooke declared. "In addition, many such owners added substantial amounts in cash for additional certificates," the postmaster further stated.

The postmaster calls attention to a few of the facts that make Treasury Savings Certificates the most desirable form of investment.

Issued in denominations of $1,000, $100 and $25, at cost prices of $820, $82 and $20.50 respectively.

Payable 5 years from issue date, but can be redeemed before maturity if necessity demands.

Principal and interest exempt from all state and local taxes and the normal Federal income tax.

Principal and interest will be paid to owner regardless of any lien or judgment.

Any minor competent of signing his namec can legally own these certificates.

In fact, as Postmaster Cooke points out, Treasury Savings Certificates offer the ideal investment for individuals or others who can invest from $20.50 to $4100.

THE ONE-MAN WOMAN

By Ruth Agnes Abeling.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATE WARD, widow of
DAN WARD, has a visitor,
CHINATOWN ALICE, who says Dan was the father of her child
DOROTHY. Kate is much perturbed.
Wooed by
JAMES LATHAM, she will not accept him until she has solved the riddle of Dan's past. To this end she invites Alice and Dorothy to visit her at the home of her father,
JUSTIN PARSONS. Alice, however, does not mention Dan again. Returning to the laundry of SING LOY, she leaves Dorothy for a few days' longer stay with Kate. After her departure, Kate finds in her room a man's photograph bearing the initials JDG.

GO ON WITH STORY

Who Kate wondered, could JDG be? Had the picture belonged to Alice? she questioned. Could there be, as the woman at the boarding house suggested, a man of whom Alice was fond? And, if so, why wasn't he with her?

The picture wasn't that of Sing Loy. It couldn't have been of Alice's father; it was too young, too delicate the clothing too modern. Who then, could it be?

Suddenly Kate remembered the slender figure she had seen with Alice several weeks before as she was entering the hotel. She recalled the voice she had heard at that time and considered whether or not it might belong to the man whose photograph she held.

"It might," she said at length talking half aloud. "A man with such a delicate chin, such a curving mouth, and eyes which laugh even though the face is at rest, would be very liable to have a voice eternally boyish."

Glancing out of the window she saw Justin, Dorothy and Monk, the dog, making their way across the field toward the cottage. Dorothy was running ahead with her hand on Monk's collar.

As she watched the child, dark eyed elfin, it occurred to her that she bore a slight resemblance to the man in the photograph. He was not unlike Dan in type. A certain daring the half laughing eyes, were very like Dan. The three, Dorothy, Dan and the man in the picture seemed to have traits in common. It puzzled Kate.

It occurred to her that Dorothy might know the photographed face. As she opened the door for her father and the little girl, Kate had the picture in her hand.

She showed it to Justin first.

"This isn't anything of yours, is it?" she asked.

"No," he said. "Where did you get it? Someone must have carried it in a watch or pocket," he added as he examined the circular bit of paper.

"I found it in the room which Alice occupied," Kate said, and then, speaking to the child, "Dorothy have you seen this man?" she asked.

As the question left her lips, Kate was half angry with herself. Why had she spoken of the thing to the child? What right had she to pry into the affair of someone else simply because she had found a picture on the floor of her room? She regretted not having put the picture in an envelope and sent it immediately to Alice.

Dorothy's voice startled her.

"I've never seen him," said the child.

Crabs Disturb Diners

SUVA, Fiji.—Female diners at the most pretentious hotel here jump on chairs and scream when at almost every meal giant crabs scuttle across the dining room floor. The crabs are routed by a Hindue servant, hired for that express purpose. He attacks them with a walking stick and sends them hurtling like golf balls .

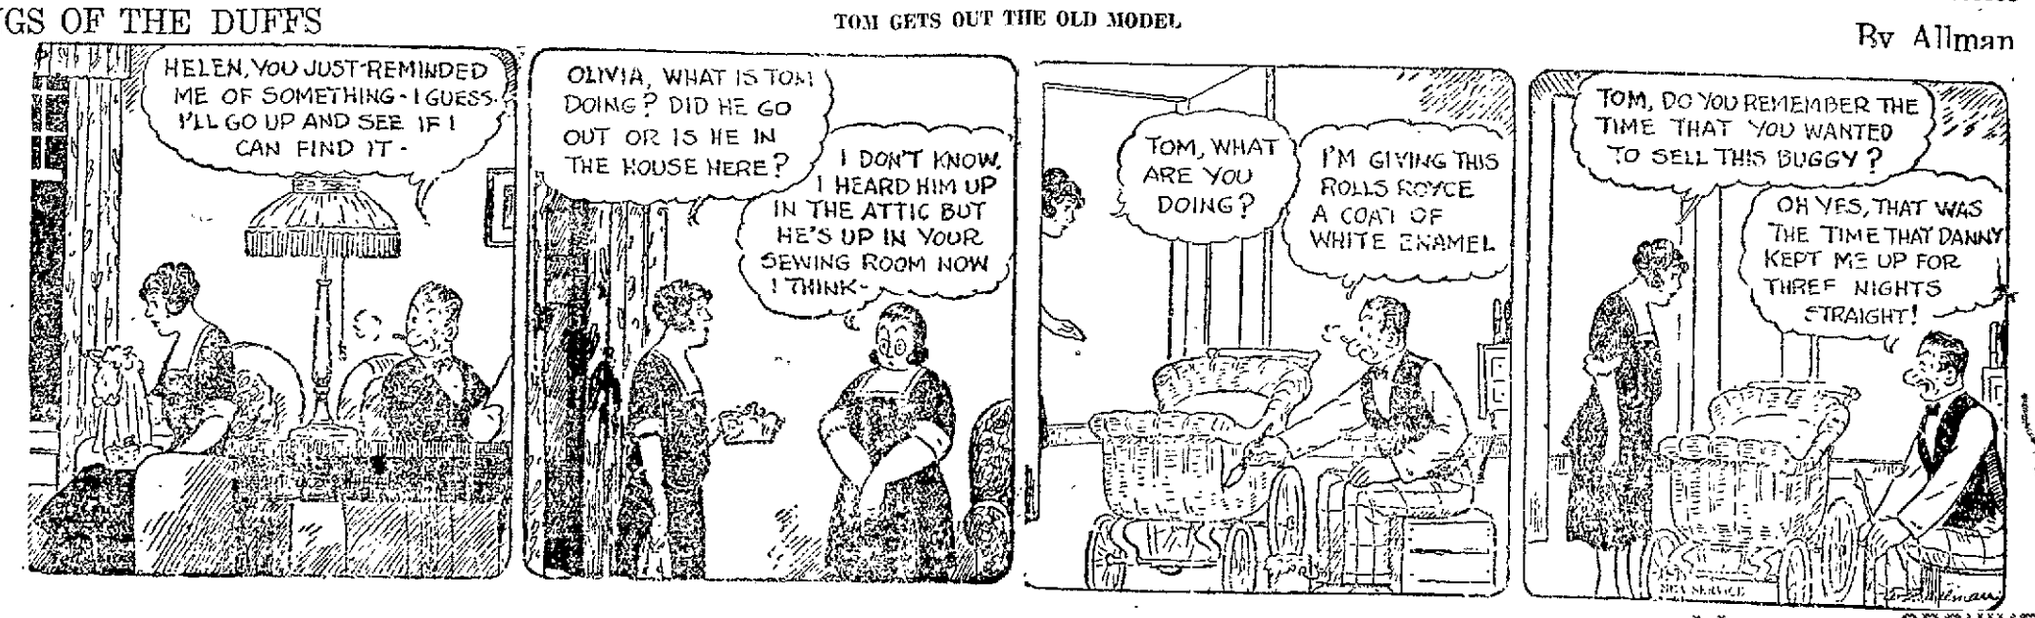
TOM GETS OUT THE OLD MODEL

By Allman



HELEN, YOU JUST REMINDED ME OF SOMETHING - I GUESS I'LL GO UP AND SEE IF I CAN FIND IT -
OLIVIA, WHAT IS TOM DOING? DID HE GO OUT OR IS HE IN THE HOUSE HERE?
I DON'T KNOW. I HEARD HIM UP IN THE ATTIC BUT HE'S UP IN YOUR SEWING ROOM NOW I THINK -
TOM, WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
I'M GIVING THIS ROLLS ROYCE A COAT OF WHITE ENAMEL
TOM, DO YOU REMEMBER THE TIME THAT YOU WANTED TO SELL THIS BUGGY?
OH YES, THAT WAS THE TIME THAT DANNY KEPT ME UP FOR THREE NIGHTS STRAIGHT!

RIVALS

The Alarm Clock said to the Wrist Watch:
'I envy you much today;
You have made me almost useless
You have stolen my friends away."

The Wash Board said to the Ouija Board:
"It's true as true can be
You are often pressed by tender hands
That ought to be pressing me."
The Broom Stick said to the Lip Stick:
"A sensible person you see
It was far better before you came
Between the Fair Damsel and Me."

The Dish Rag said to the Powder Puff:
"Many weary old mothers would smile
If the hands that so frequently 'pat' with you
Would handle me once in a while"

Then the Clock, the Wash Board, the Broomstick,
And the Dish Rag lifted their heads
And looked their rivals square in the fact
And in concert they proudly said:

"You have made us despised and forsaken
By those fair young Human Flowers,
But the men they would like to marry
Are mighty good friends of ours."

Good Manners

It's poor form to express ones likes and dislikes—especially the latter—very forcibly in any gathering where one is not particularly well acquainted. It's a good rule in general, and often there are occasions when its disregard may prove most embarrassing.

TODAY'S RECIPES

MIXED GRILL

By Bertha E. Shapleigh

To prepare a mixed grill for one person you will require:

One thick lamb chop one lamb kidney, one sausage, one tomato, one mushroom cap, and butter salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce.

Prepare the chop for broiling.

Soak the kidney in cold water, then cover with boiling water for one minute; remove skin, split the saute in butter for five minutes; add Worcestershire sauce.

Cooke the sausage; fry the tomato, cut in halves, in butter until soft: saute the mushroom cap (this may be omitted).

Broil chop, place on the fried tomato, which previously has been put on a hot plate. On one side of the chop place the kidney and on the other side the sausage. Place the mushroom, if included on top of the chop.

To a little melted butter add lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce, pour over all, and serve at once.

THE NEWS FROM PINEVILLE

TWELVE CIVIL CASES FILED IN COUNTY

Two Divorce Suits, Two Ask Money on Notes—Others Against Coal Companies

PINEVILLE, Feb. 10.—Twelve suits were filed with the circuit clerk of Bell county Thursday. This is not an unusual number, however, as he has filed as many as fifty in one day. The list of those brought in Thursday follows:

Alice Aslinger filed petition against Dock Aslinger for divorce. The petition states that they were married in 1900 and separated in October, 1922, and that there are three children, Leland 7 years old, Rufus 5, and Oliver, 12. She charges cruelty and that he is not a proper guardian for the children. She also seeks $25 monthly alimony and that this amount be raised when Oliver, who is in the reform school comes home.

Milton Durdine asks divorce from Dessie Burdine on the grounds of abandonment. The petition states that they were married February, 1922, and separated two or three months later, when she went to Tennessee to live.

E. J. Adams, W. L. Adams, and F. R. Whalin, as the Bell County Lumber company filed suit on Joe Chadwick, L. M. Mullins, C. F. Ball and D. L. Manis for $135 due on a promissory note plus the interest which would make a total of $149.85.

John Howard seeks payment on a promissory note of $12, which he alleges is due from George Matthews. He prays that the court sell property in Middlesboro upon which he has a mortgage for payment of the note.

The Middlesboro Land Company files petition asking that William Thompson be forced to comply with conditions of option which the petition charges that the defendant promised to do and failed. It states that January 22, 1923, the defendant executed and delivered to the plaintiff options on lots 17 and 18 in block 311 in the northeast section of Middlesboro for $7,500, one-third in cash, the remainder to be paid in two parts at various intervals. The plaintiff declares that he fulfilled his obligations and that the defendant failed and he asks the court to require the defendant to comply.

The Manring Real Estate company is the plaintiff in a suit to collect from the Can-Bit Coal company $250 which it alleges is due from the sale of some real estate for the defendant. Interest is also asked.

J. H. Sulcerth Coal company seeks judgments against C. D. Ball, as the Peacock Coal company, of $261.90 and interest from January 1, 1922 for two cars of coal delivered and sold, according to the petition. The plaintiff is a Knoxville company and the defendant lives in Middlesboro.

The Citizens Bank and Trust company has filed suit against M. Levy, Fannie and L. Levy and Davis and Graham for $23.40 paid for taxes owed by the Levy's to save the property from sale by the sheriff. Davis and Graham also are setting claim against the property for construction of street, and are therefore necessary parties to this petition.

The Southern Motors Company asks payment of $950 from Mossie Reese and the Dixie Gun Coal company, on a Columbia Touring car, which the plaintiff declares is past due. The Office Equipment company of Louisville also files against the same defendant asking payment of $62.75 and interest from December 14, 1920 for sales made.

W. E. Gann filed against C. D. Ball, as the Peacock Coal company, for $153.77 with interest from June 24, 1922 with six per cent interest for cars of coal sold and delivered according to the petition.

ALL STARS BEAT L. M. U. TEAM

Last Week's Game Is Avenged—Freshman Girls Defeat Sixth Grade

PINEVILLE, Feb. 10—The defeat of the Pineville High School basketball team at the hand of L. M. U. was avenged Thursday night when the Pineville All Star aggregation handed the L. M. U. a 28-14 defeat. The game was hotly contested and fouls were numerous. The L. M. U. excelled in passing but were unable to find the basket.

The Line-up was:

Pineville		L. M. U.
Henderson	F	Murray
Jones	F	Quiney
Peterson	C	Sharp
Gilbreath	G	Moore
Carnes	G	Byrd

The preliminary game between the freshmen girls and the sixth grade was rather one-sided and the final score was 14-1 in favor of the freshmen. Helen Waller was the star of the game making six baskets.

DR. VIOLETTE HOLDING SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT MIAMI

PINEVILLE, Feb. 10—Dr. E. Violette, the evangelist who is coming to the Pineville Christian Church March 4 to conduct revival services, and who is now conducting services in Miami, Fla, has reported to the Rev. Howard Brazelton that he has had seventy-three additions to the church since the meeting started there. The largest day was last Sunday when there were 340 at Sunday School and 43 additions to the church in that day.

SUCCESSOR FOR MISS MARY BROOKING IS APPOINTED

PINEVILLE, Feb. 10—Mrs. W. C. Kuykendall has been appointed by the Pineville school board to succeed Miss Mary Brooking as teacher of the fourth grade. Miss Brooking's resignation became effective February 2. She has taught the fourth grade for the last three years. In speaking of her work, Superintendent Shipp said that she had done so with the satisfaction of the administration, leaving the school with regrets of the entire faculty, superintendent and pupils.

Mrs. Kuykendall has had two and one half years in the Kentucky University, one full summer term at Columbia University, New York, and three years experience at Russel Cave consolidated school in Fayette County.

Arrested On Liquor Charge

PINEVILLE, Feb. 10—Sam Kelley of Harlan was arrested charged with possessing and selling liquor and his trial was set for March 21 before Judge Rollins. His bond, which he executed was fixed at $300.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

GENERAL PLAN FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Association Works Out Three Months Campaign, Climax, May 6, S. S. Day

The Bell County Sunday School Association, acting in accordance with the state association, will observe February March and April for special features in Sunday School work, getting ready for the great Go-To-Sunday-School Day, May 6, which will be observed in all Sunday Schools in the country. Following is the general plan of campaign outlined for the next three months for local Sunday Schools.

For February: Regularity and punctuality to be emphasized and special recognition given to individuals, classes and departments making a perfect record or high record for twelve weeks beginning February 18th. Roll of classes and departments should be carefully revised and made accurate. Be sure that everyone understands just what you mean by "On time". Our recommendation is that a pupil must be in the school to be counted present, no matter how good an excuse he may have for being absent.

For March Evangelism to be emphasized in Sunday session program of schools and departments above primary during the month of March. Training classes in personal evangelism conducted for teachers and older pupils. Each Sunday School teacher to make effort to win acceptance of Christ as Savior. Each school will, of course, follow the plans of its denomination in this evangelistic emphasis. Write your publishing house at once for literature.

For April: Large increase in Sunday School membership is to be worked for during the month of April. Use of 100,000 Club recommended. Work for special groups may come within the same week; each worker going to the members of his family one week; neighbors being invited another week. Special attention should be paid to making programs interesting and helpful so that those who come as visitors, or to sample may be induced to become regular members.

TOKYO.—An airplane service has been established by the Asahi, Tokyo daily paper to carry copies regularly to Osaka 315 miles away.

"Where a Warm Welcome Awaits You"

Man---

The Greatest of God's Creation.

Character---

The Greatest Thing in Man.

Saving---

The Greatest Character Builder.

Build Character and all else will be added.

Neglect Character and nothing else counts.

Character, then, is the one thing needful.

Learn to Save and you lay the foundation for a great and good Character.

Inspire others to Save and you render a great service.

He who serves best profits most.
